Katy is maintaining her weight at 15.2 pounds. She did very well for her exam. Her eyes are fine; no sign of infection. Her ears are clean and clear; we found some of her own hair in her right ear. That may have irritated her ear, causing the head rubbing. Monitor and let us know if problems.

She has moderate dental tartar and needs a dental cleaning. Let us know when we can schedule the procedure.

Heart and lungs are clear. Abdomen palpated normal.

The skin around her vulva is dry and clean. We did not shave her today. Let us know if any scooting or problems.

We updated her rabies vaccine between her shoulders. Monitor and call us if any lethargy or soreness.

We did not update her distemper-parvo vaccine since you reported a severe reaction to it in 2006 (where she did not eat and could not move). If she does not board and have limited exposure to other dogs, she should be fine without additional distemper-parvo vaccines. If there's risk of her being exposed to other unvaccinated dogs, we may need to reconsider the vaccine.

Unless problems or we see her sooner, weight check in 2-3 months; she will be due for her bordetella vaccine then. Wellness screen (blood and urine test) due in a year..tnt
