Oliver is maintaining his weight at 25.8 pounds. His right ear has some hair in it, but no infection. His left ear still has purulent discharge (pus) and is infected. The infection is not worse than last week but only slightly better.

As we discussed, since he does not allow for treatment at home, we will try one more method. We will have the compounding pharmacy formulate a slow-releasing ear plug infused with the medication. We will place the plug in his ear at each weekly ear cleaning visit.

We submitted samples today to determine type of bacteria to choose the appropriate antibiotic. We also submitted blood for his senior wellness. If we get results in time to have the pharmacy formulate the medication, we will start him on the treatment next week.

We also updated his rabies vaccine as requested. Let us know if any lethargy or soreness around his shoulders.

Continue with his eye medications and oral prednisolone.

Unless problems, schedule a treatment appointment in a week for the ear clean and medication..tnt
